

Will a Chip Save the Pope's life?

This will be basically a follow-up on my program about Pope Francis visiting the United States next week and I have suggested that he may fulfill two of the prophecies about the False Prophet. First of all, he may be assassinated or an attempt made on his life. Now, it won't be a true assassination; here's the way John writes about it in the book of Revelation, he says "as it were". In other words, this is a false flag. It could happen this coming week or at any time in the near future. This is one of the guarantees that Pope Francis is indeed the False Prophet.

Another thing he may achieve during this trip to the United States is to cause everyone to take the mark of the beast as also prophesied in Scripture. That would mean he would say that taking an RFID chip is no big deal. I have been thinking about this possibility and what if the Pope were assassinated or an attempt made on his life in this country and he is rushed to the hospital and he happens to already have an RFID chip implanted. The doctors read the medical information on the chip and lo and behold his life is saved through this amazing technology. Therefore, the Pope, the False Prophet of the End Times, could kill two birds with one stone, so to speak. I am not saying this will happen. This is just speculation on my part.

Now, it is very possible that we will not have proof that he is the False Prophet until next month when he convenes this Synod of Bishops in Rome. When he does that, I am predicting that he will cause the Daily Sacrifice, that is the Holy Eucharist of our Lord, to be taken away from the Prince and the Prince of course is Jesus Christ. This would fulfill the prophecy which our Lord gave in Matthew's Olivet Discourse where he warned Roman Catholics specifically, "when you see the abomination of desolation spoken of by Daniel the prophet... then let those who are in the field not go back to take their coats." The green field in the End Times is the Roman Catholic Church and when Catholics are forced to flee the field, they must go into the desert as John prophesies in Chapter 12 of Revelation.

So, just exactly how does the False Prophet take the Daily Sacrifice away from the Prince? As you know, there are three requirements for a priest to consecrate a valid Eucharist. First, there must be valid form, in other words, he must say the proper words. Second, there must be valid matter, that is he must use unleavened bread and wine. And, third, he must have the same intention which our Lord had at the Last Supper. Jesus' intention at the Last Supper was to give the bread of life to all of his followers but I contend he did not give the bread of life to the traitor Judas.

To prove my point and to demonstrate that to all the Bishops who are attending this Synod of Bishops, on my website, I have made a chart, a chronology of the Last Supper. This is very important because it shows in Matthew, Mark, Luke and John that the Holy Eucharist came after Judas was dismissed by our Lord. There is one exception and that is St. Luke said that the Eucharist occurred before Judas left the Lord's Table. I believe that Luke's chronology is not accurate and he has a reputation throughout his Gospel of not being chronologically accurate, for example, he says that John the Baptist baptized our Lord after John the Baptist was beheaded and of course that is impossible.

One of my subscribers asked me to review this chart and I've got listed eight events at the Last Supper and you will see they coincide with each other except, as I say, for that one exception. The first event I have listed is "Jesus reclines to eat the Passover". We find that in Matthew, Mark and Luke. The next event is that "Supper is done and Satan enters into Judas". Now we only find that in John. The third event is that "Jesus washes the feet of the disciples". We also find that only in John. The next event is when Jesus says "One of you will betray me". This is very important and we find that phrase in all four Gospels. This is something which obviously upset Jesus very much and made very much a very strong impression on all the apostles.

Remember, however, that only two of these apostles, Matthew and John, were at the Last Supper. They are eye witnesses and John is the most accurate eye witness because he was seated right next to Jesus. The next thing Jesus says is "He who dips bread with me is the one". The bread that Jesus dips is not the Eucharist. This was a morsel. This was part of the Passover service. He dips it into a sauce. Jesus would never do that with the Eucharist. Consequently, Bible scholars or theologians who believe that this shows that Judas received the Eucharist, they are in error. This morsel is not the Bread of Life. Now, the phrase "he who dips bread with me is the one" is found in Matthew, Mark and John.

The next phrase is "Woe to that man by whom he is betrayed". These are the words of Jesus. Those are found in Matthew, Mark and Luke. And then Judas says "Is it I Rabbi?" and after the morsel, he leaves, Jesus tells him to "Do it quickly". That event is found in Matthew and in John and then we come to the Last Supper, the Institution of the Eucharist. That is found in Matthew, Mark and Luke; however, as I said before, Luke's description is out of place. And so, I think we see by this chronology that our Lord's intention when he consecrated his body and blood out of bread and wine, his intention was not to "give that which is holy to the dogs". Now today, a priest can have a false intention, a flawed intention in his heart, but that does not invalidate the Eucharist because a priest's intention is hidden. However, if the Church changes his intention, if the Church declares that he must give the Eucharist to divorced and remarried Catholics or to anyone else living in mortal sin, that will invalidate the Eucharist. I believe that will be a fulfillment of the prophecy of our Lord. When you see the abomination of desolation spoken of by Daniel the prophet, then you must leave the field. That is a warning to Roman Catholics, specifically. That abomination of desolation is when the Daily Sacrifice, which is the Eucharist, is taken away from the Prince who is Jesus Christ.

If that is accomplished by Pope Francis the False Prophet at this upcoming Synod, then we Catholics, we must then flee from the field. Now, remember, a lot of Catholics are going to accept this abomination of desolation. They will say, "Oh this is great. Now Aunt Tilly or Uncle George can go to Communion." They will not understand until too late. After this occurs, many other Catholics are going to understand in their hearts that they are not receiving the Body and the Blood of our Lord. They will understand that something drastic has changed. They will then understand that they too must flee the Church.

Now, as I say, this chart is available on my website. Also, there is a sample letter you can use to write to your bishop and I also have a three-page explanation of why the Daily Sacrifice will be taken away if the intention of the priest is faulty. The consecration will not be valid. And so, I urge you, my subscribers, not only in the United States but in your own countries, this chart is available in six different languages. I can do more if you request it. Send a copy of the chart plus the three pages of explanation to your bishop. They need to understand this. Many priests and bishops do not understand the chronology of the Last Supper which prove our Lord did not give the Eucharist to Judas just as priests cannot have the intention in their hearts of giving the Eucharist to anyone living in mortal sin. As Saint Paul wrote, "Anyone who eats the body and blood of our Lord unworthily is guilty of the body and blood of our Lord".
