

Bible Prophecy 2014: Wormwood & the Antichrist

This is part 5 in my series on what possible fulfilments of End Times Bible prophecy we may see in the year 2014; and I have already discussed how we could very well see the first Abomination of Desolation which occurs when the False Prophet takes the Daily Sacrifice away from the Prince; in other words, when the Holy Eucharist is perverted or banned in all Christian churches throughout the world. No one will be able to receive the true Body and Blood of Our Lord, Jesus Christ.

And I know a lot of people on YouTube will say, 'well, that's not a big deal,' but, in fact, it will be the greatest catastrophe to ever hit mankind. And I've also predicted that it may not occur this Spring, in other words, during Holy Week, because Jesus may shorten the days, but if it does happen, what follows will be the arrival of the Antichrist because we know that the False Prophet announces the Antichrist in very much the same way that John the Baptist announced the arrival of our Lord and Saviour, Jesus Christ.

However, in the book of Revelation, the beast from the earth is preceded by the beast from the sea and most people understand that the beast from the sea is the Antichrist; he has 7 heads and 10 horns. What this means is that the Antichrist is supported by the 10 most important secular world leaders and by the 7 most important religious world leaders. We know that from numerology because 10 is a number for, for example, the 10 kings of the Antichrist, and 7 is a number for religion and that's why the 7 heads on this first beast have names of blasphemy, they are perverting the spirit of religion.

Since the second beast, the beast from the earth, only has 2 horns instead of 7 horns, how can we assure ourselves that this second beast is the False Prophet? It's very interesting if we count the number of verses associated with each of these beasts, the Antichrist has 10 verses in chapter 13, verses 1 through 10, which describe the beast from the sea, and the next 7 verses, that is verses 11 through 17, describe the beast from the earth, in other words, the False Prophet.

So now we have sort of a dilemma. If the False Prophet comes before the Antichrist, that is, he announces him, much like John the Baptist announced our Lord, why does John list the False Prophet coming up from the earth after the Antichrist comes up from the sea? And I think we need to look at previous passages of the book of Revelation to find out if John may, in fact, announce the False Prophet earlier in his book.

It's interesting that if we search previous passages in John's book of Revelation we discover two great stars which fall from heaven. Sometimes these are mistakenly interpreted as comets, or meteorites, or some other heavenly object which strikes the earth, but I think it's much more likely that these are public figures, in other words like movie or sports stars, and I believe these two stars are related. One star is called 'Wormwood', and he makes the waters bitter. The other star, which falls from Heaven, unleashes a plague of locusts which lasts for five months.

One of these I believe is the False Prophet and the other is a great precursor of the False Prophet, and that would be Martin Luther. If we look at St. John's cryptogram, we see that the great star, Wormwood, falls at the sounding of the third trumpet, which according to the correct chronology actually occurs after the sounding of the fifth trumpet which announces the arrival of the great star which unleashes the five-month plague of stinging locusts, and we know that this occurs following the White Horse of apostasy. Therefore, that is the star which announces the precursor of the False Prophet, that would be Martin Luther, and this star, Wormwood, must be the False Prophet himself, and he comes before the Beast which come up out of the sea.

Now, it is not my purpose on this program to offend Lutherans. I am sure the Catholic Church of the 16th century needed reformation, however, Martin Luther did not reform the church, he broke it up. He did not unite, he scattered, and today we have tens of thousands of different denominations all claiming that they preach true Christianity, which is a theological impossibility. There's only one Truth. Fortunately, John says that this plague of locusts, which Martin Luther unleashed, only lasts five months, and of course, when you analyze End Times Bible prophecy, you always take the symbolic interpretation ahead of the literal interpretation, and what that means is: those five months symbolize five centuries, and that five month time frame is very important because John mentions it three times.

And it also occurs at the sounding of the fifth trumpet, and if you look at five centuries following the date when Martin Luther posted his 95 Theses on Halloween of the year 1517, and you add, as I say, five centuries to that date, you come up with the Fall of 2017, and I am certain that is the date Jesus will return at the Battle of Armageddon, and once again the Church will have one flock and one Shepherd. So, what I am saying is that the great star, Martin Luther, fell five centuries ago at the sounding of the fifth trumpet, but the falling of the great star, Wormwood, will occur this year, 2014, at the sounding out the third trumpet.

So, let's take a look at some of the characteristics of Wormwood and see if he fits the profile of the False Prophet; and thus we read in Revelation chapter 8, verse 10: 'And the third angel sounded the trumpet and a great star fell from heaven...' That means this star is not a meteorite or a comet, as many suggest, but more like a movie star or sports star, a great figure, and he falls from heaven which means he falls from a state of grace, he falls into apostasy. '...burning as it were a torch, and it fell on the third part of the rivers, and on the fountains of waters... This third part of the rivers and fountains of waters I am sure refers to the Catholic denomination of Christianity which would be about a third. And John continues in verse 11: '...and the name of the star is called Wormwood: and the third part of the waters became Wormwood;' that refers to the Catholics, '...and many men died of the waters, because they were made bitter.'

Now dying of the waters means a spiritual death. Remember, you always look at the symbolic interpretation ahead of the literal interpretation in End Times Bible prophecy and the 'waters made bitter' refers to the doctrines and dogmas of the Catholic Church, the true doctrines which will be perverted by this False Prophet, Wormwood. Some people may claim that Pope Francis is this fallen star, Wormwood, in other words, the False Prophet. I am not going to accuse him because that is a very serious charge, not until or if he fulfills the Bible prophecy of Daniel, and that is, if he takes the Daily Sacrifice away from the Prince. That is when Jesus said you must flee. Until then, I intend to be loyal to Francis as a true successor of Peter. I am not going to be like Martin Luther and start a new denomination. I disagree with many of the things Pope Francis has stated, but all popes are human beings, they make errors when they speak off-the-cuff, that does not indicate he is the False Prophet.

You can be sure I will be the first to tell you if he indeed takes away the Daily Sacrifice away from the Prince because that will trigger Daniel's time-line, and soon after the False Prophet takes the Daily Sacrifice away from the Prince, and establishes the first Abomination of Desolation, that will soon be followed by the Antichrist who will set up his Abomination of Desolation, and he will be worshipped in the temple of God. That is not some kind of rebuilt temple in Jerusalem, that is the Catholic Church.

Neither do I want to rule out the possibility that Pope Francis could be the False Prophet. It's obvious from the book of Revelation, there are two manifestations of this Beast. First, he comes as Wormwood, and he muddies the water, he makes the doctrine bitter. Is that what Pope Francis is doing now? Following that, he manifests as the Beast which takes away the Daily Sacrifice from the Prince, and that is closely associated with the appearance of the Antichrist. And please don't forget, the Rapture/nuclear war, could occur before any of these events. Jesus said, we cannot know the day or hour of His arriving to take His bride to the Wedding Feast.
