

Super Bowl 47 and Bible Prophecy

This is just a very short video so I will skip my normal introduction and ending. I just wanted to make a few comments about this year's Super Bowl coming up on Sunday and some of the interesting numerology involved, and by that I mean Biblical numerology, and the reason is because God sometimes gives prophecy through sporting events and very often through numbers, so let's take a look.

For example, this year's Super Bowl is the 47th and both 4 and 7 are very important End Times numbers: and the book of Revelation is actually structured around those two numbers. Also, 4 plus 7 equals 11 which is a homosexual number, a very disturbing type of number many people are seeing. I see 1111, or 11:11, for example, all the time, and I know it is a warning type number. Also, 4 times 7 equals 28 and 28, as I'm sure you know, is another End Times number. In fact, as I pointed out on my video about the Sandy Hook tragedy, 28 is the number for Babylon in the book of Revelation.

It's also interesting how many number 23's are involved, for example, both coaches, who happen to be brothers, of the two teams, were each born on the 23rd of a month. I believe one was born on September 23, and the other born on December 23, about a year apart, and of course we know the number 23 is an evil number because it places man, that is the number 2, over God, number 3, and when you do that you get the decimal .666 which is the number of the Antichrist. And, of course, this Super Bowl will be played on February the 3rd, that is, 2/3.

Now, I've been watching some other people's videos on YouTube and they seem to think that it's possible that if one team or another wins that will be a sign from God but in this case I really don't think so. The Ravens could be a bird of ill omen so will they win or lose? San Francisco is the gay capital of America. Would God want them to be defeated or would they win because after all, in the End Times, Jesus said, It would be as the days of Sodom and Gomorrah. On the other hand, San Francisco is another name for Saint Francis so I don't see any prophecy possibilities in who wins or loses but, God can also give prophecies in other ways.

For example, in last year's Super Bowl the winning touchdown was scored by number 44 for the Giants and he scored untouched and I remember saying at the time that that indicated that Barack Obama would win his re-election bid without any serious opposition and that proved to be true. I watched several other videos where the person predicted that the 47th Super Bowl would be the last Super Bowl and I think that is very likely although I also said the same thing three years ago and the 44th Super Bowl was not the last Super Bowl, so God can use that as a prophecy or maybe not. Maybe there will be more Super Bowls and if you have any comments, what do you think? Add them below and we can have a discussion.
