

2 Popes & 3 Prophecies

There has been tremendous coverage of the Pope's resignation and that is to be expected although I am still surprised. People, I believe, are beginning to realize that we are at the end of human history and of course, these events are leading up to the Second Coming of our Lord, Jesus Christ. And I believe this resignation of Pope Benedict confirms three different prophecies and on this program I want to take a look at those three prophecies and how the Pope's resignation proves them, at least in my mind. Let's see what you think.

First of all, there is Saint Malachy's prophecy of the last 112 Popes in the history of the Catholic Church and our current pope, Pope Benedict, is the 111th Pope and what's very interesting is that this 111th Pope on Saint Malachy's list, resigned on the 11th of February at the 11th hour. Now, I'm not 100 percent sure of the 11th hour. This is what one of my nephews told me and he knows Italian and I believe he got it from the Italian press so maybe some of you might be able to verify this for me, one way or another. If the Pope did resign at the 11th hour, that of course helps to verify that he is the 111th Pope and also that this is the 11th hour.

And now I want to look at a second prophecy which I believe the Pope's resignation verifies and that is a prophecy given to Maria Divine Mercy who is a seer in Ireland. Let's take a look at what she received about a year ago. 'My dearly beloved daughter,' now this is Jesus speaking to this Irish seer who goes by the name of Maria Divine Mercy, 'the wars are escalating everywhere and very soon the hand of my Father will intervene to bring this evil to a halt.' Now, that's a very good part of this message. 'Fear not for the plans to save humanity are completed and it will not be long now for my great mercy which will be given to each of you. Never fear the works of the Antichrist when you, dear children, have the power within you to weaken his grasp on the world through your prayers. Other world leaders will be killed soon,' this was before Gaddafi was killed, 'and my poor holy vicar, Pope Benedict the XVIth will be ousted from the Holy See in Rome. Last year, my daughter, I told you of the plot within the corridors of the Vatican. A plan to destroy my holy vicar was devised in secret on the 17th of March, 2011 and this will come to fruition for it has been foretold.' Now, the title of this message given by Jesus to Maria Divine Mercy was: 'My Poor Holy Vicar, Pope Benedict the XVIth Will be Ousted from the Holy See in Rome' and what is most interesting about this prophecy is that it was given precisely 1 year ago to the day that Pope Benedict announced his retirement, in fact, it is to the exact hour: 'Saturday, February the 11th, 2012 at 11:30 a.m..' This is very significant. To me, it verifies that this prophecy from our Lord to Maria Divine Mercy is true and accurate prophecy.

Another very interesting prophecy was given to Maria Divine Mercy this year on April the 12th and it concerns the next Pope, Peter the Roman, but also the next Pope who is the False Prophet and they are not the same. Peter the Roman, as I have been telling you, is a true Pope, so how can we have two Popes ruling at the same time? Let's read this explanation: 'My beloved Pope Benedict the XVI is the last true Pope on this earth.' This is Jesus speaking, 'Peter the Roman is my Peter, the original apostle who will rule my Church from the Heavens under the command of my eternal Father. Then, when I come to reign at the Second Coming, he will rule over all of God's children when all religions will become one, holy, Catholic, and Apostolic Church.' And the prophecy continues: 'The false prophets are being sent to prepare God's children to accept the next Pope who comes after my beloved vicar, Pope Benedict. This Pope may be elected by members within the Catholic Church but he will be the False Prophet. His electors are wolves in sheep's clothing and are members of the secret Masonic and evil group led by Satan. This is how Satan will try to destroy my Church. Sadly, he will, this False Prophet, attract a large following. Those who oppose him will be persecuted. Run children while you can. Denounce the lies which will be presented by those who attempt to convince you of the authenticity of the False Prophet.'

So, all you people on YouTube who are trying to guess the identity of the next pope by trying to find a Peter the Roman, you will be proven wrong. Instead, you need to be looking for a false Pope, an anti-Pope, someone who will prove to be 'the beast that comes up out of the earth' in the book of Revelation, the False Prophet of all time. He will not be Peter the Roman and incidentally, if you would like to read more of the prophecies from Maria Divine Mercy, you can find them at various internet locations.

The third prophecy which I believe the resignation of Pope Benedict the XVIth verifies is the 'Gangnam Style' prophecy. As you know, in that music video, the man dressed in yellow with white shirt symbolizes

Pope Benedict the XVIth and he is defeated by Psy, who represents the Antichrist, in a dance-off. When the man in yellow arrives, and of course, yellow and white symbolize the papacy, he challenges Psy to a dance-off and the girls in the video all run off to the sides which indicates priestly celibacy.

After the Antichrist defeats Pope Benedict in this video, the man in yellow drives off in a little red convertible and the license plate on the convertible has three 5's on it, which indicates the Catholic Church because that is a symbol of Mary's Rosary, and the other three numbers on the license plate, that is 389, symbolize that in three years Pope Benedict will be 89. So there are many verifications that the man in yellow does indeed represent Pope Benedict. The automobile he drives off in is a Mercedes-Benz which is the same make as the Popemobile. Also, Mercedes-Benz automobiles are manufactured in Germany, which is Pope Benedict's native country.

I did say in my video about Gangnam Style, I thought this indicated he Pope would be martyred and some people have criticized me for that because they say the Pope has resigned instead of dying in office. However, there is such a thing in the Catholic Church as a Dry Martyrdom and this is not a cop out. I simply report what I see. The fact is, the man dressed in yellow in that video symbolizes Pope Benedict the XVIth and Psy symbolizes the Antichrist and when Psy defeats the man dressed in yellow in that dance-off, that prophecy was fulfilled this past Monday when Pope Benedict resigned.

And I was also criticized in my last video for saying 'I'm almost certain'. The fact is, all prophecy is conditional. In fact, we Catholics could still, through prayer and fasting, prevent the False Prophet from taking over the Papacy, but from what I see right now, I do not see that happening. And, I want to show on my next program where this very significant resignation of Pope Benedict is found on Daniel's time-line.
