

Antichrist Numerology in Gangnam Style

About a month ago, I made a program on two hugely viral videos called 'Gangnam Style' and 'Call me Maybe', and I pointed out, that those two videos are announcing the arrival of the Antichrist. And several of my subscribers sent me messages saying that I should look at the numerology in those videos, and you were right, and I thank you for pointing this out to me. The numerology in these videos is trying to tell us, that the Antichrist will be victorious in the End Times. In other words, that 666, which is the number of the Antichrist in Bible prophecy, will defeat 555, which is the number of Mary's Rosary. And of course, we know from Scripture that just the opposite is the truth: 555 will defeat 666.

So first of all, let's take a look at this scene from Gangnam Style, which proves the video is about these End Times, because it shows us the four horsemen of the Apocalypse. In this scene inside a horse barn exercising area we see the four horsemen of the Apocalypse, one, two, three, four.

Secondly, one of the more ridiculous scenes occurs early on in the Gangnam Style video, in what I call the 'flying garbage scene'. I think this also indicates that Psy is impersonating the Antichrist.

All the garbage flies into his face, and of course, later on in the video, we see him sitting on a toilet, and we also see him lusting after a girl exercising in short shorts. I think he is trying to tell us that this Antichrist figure is a very lowly, despicable person associated with garbage, toilets, lust and so on.

It's interesting in this flying garbage scene, a most prominent number appears on one of the columns.

Let's take a look: the most prominent number is on this column over here is the number 18.

Now, 18 can be broken down as $8+1=9$, or of course, as the Antichrist's number of $6+6+6$. So again we see that Psy, in this video is representing the Antichrist; and he has an antagonist, and that is the 'man dressed in yellow'. And when this man dressed in yellow arrives on the scene, all the girls run away in fear. He symbolizes the enemy of the Antichrist and he soon is defeated. But who does this man in yellow represent?

First of all, of course, yellow symbolizes cowardice, and he is the loser. But the number associated with him, can be found on his license plate. Let's take a look.

When Mr Yellow arrives on the scene in the parking lot, a most prominent number is on the license plate. We see a double 5 on the right hand side and another 5 on the left; and in this dance off between Psy and Mr Yellow, Psy is victorious, and Mr Yellow soon vacates the scene in his 555 convertible.

Thus in this satanic version of the End Times, we see that Antichrist, that is Psy, who is associated with the number 666, defeats the yellow coward, who was associated with the number 555. In other words, this video, which is announcing the arrival of the Antichrist, is trying to tell us, that the Antichrist will defeat Mary's Rosary, and of course that is the opposite of what Scripture says; this video promotes Satan's propaganda (1).

And now, let's take a look at the romantic interest of Psy, who is also a symbol of the Antichrist. Take a look at this girl, who has ten numbers and symbols on her shirt.

In this subway car scene, the girl who is attracted to Psy, wears a very prominent number 22. She also is wearing a Christian cross, but actually there are a total of nine circles on her blouse. Let's take a closer look.

In this view, we can see nine of the ten numbers on her shirt. There's a 72, this looks like an 'H' or an 'N' or maybe some kind of symbol. This is a 45, a 22, there's an 'l' or a 1 under here. There's a 'G', upside down 34, that's a 'B' and an 11 here. On the back of this sleeve is a number 33.

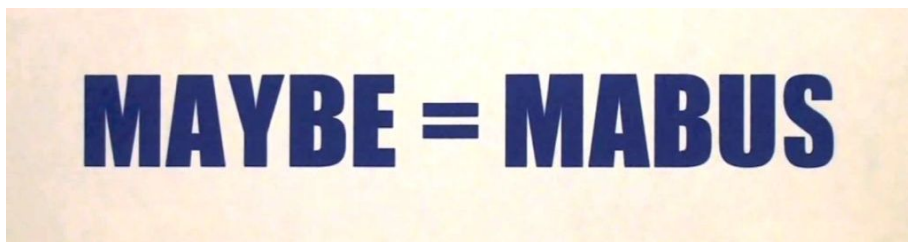

In this view, you can see the three most significant numbers, 33, 11 and 22, which, of course, add up to the significant number 66, the number of the Antichrist. Therefore both Psy and his girlfriend are symbolizing the Antichrist in these End Times.

And in this grand finale, here's an image from it, we see that these two Antichrist figures have conquered the entire world with their horse rider dance.

And in this picture, notice that, all of the world's cultures and people's are symbolized. In this final grand climax, we see Psy, representing the Antichrist leading the entire world and all these people, the masses of people, are all dressed in different national costumes, indicating that the Antichrist will indeed rule the entire world.

Next, in the other viral hit video, 'Call me Maybe', which is also announcing the arrival of the Antichrist, they are trying to give us the exact same message. Let's just review the words for that video: 'Hey I just met you', that refers to the Antichrist introducing himself for the first time. 'This is crazy', and that refers to the Tribulation period, in which the Antichrist introduces himself, which is the seven years that we are in now. 'Here's my number', that does not refer to a telephone number, but it means the Antichrist is giving his number, which is 666, to everyone in the world, in other words the Mark of the Beast. And the last phrase is the most interesting, 'Call me Maybe', because the Antichrist is telling us 'Maybe' is his name, and the name 'Maybe' is very close to 'Mabus', which is what Nostradamus called the Antichrist.

The story line of this little music video is that Carly Rae Jepsen is infatuated with her next door neighbor, who is a huge hunk of a guy, working on his automobile, and shown as a very masculine, strong personality. And of course, the punch line or kicker of this video, is that we discover at the end, the guy is not what he seems at all, but he is a homosexual. Thus this video is giving us the same message as Gangnam Style, because what is the number associated with this homosexual? Well, when he gives his telephone number to the male band member of the band, the homosexual's telephone number begins with the number 555. This is not accidental.

So both of these videos are trying to instil in your mind that the number 555 is associated with cowards, with losers, or with homosexuals. In other words, that number is weak and meaningless and will lose to the Antichrist's number of 666. And of course, we know from Matthew, we know from Daniel, we know from Ezekiel that the number 555 will defeat the number 666. In other words, Mary's Rosary is the weapon which Jesus will use to crush the Antichrist.

1) I should add, I really doubt if Psy was aware of the Biblical symbolism or that he intentionally was portraying the Antichrist.
