

Zeroing in on the Next False Flag

On this program I want to zero in on the next false flag terrorist attack and I want also to make a note that it's very possible that we prevented a false flag attack this past weekend on February the 22nd. And now, when I say "we", I include you, my subscribers, because of your very valuable input in these videos I have been making in this series. And I have been particularly examining two iPad commercials: one called "Your Verse" which was published a little over a year ago and the second one, which is more recent, called "Change is in the Air" and I believe they are blueprints for false flag attacks.

Now, in this newer video "Change is in the Air" I pointed out this scene called the "MAST BROTHERS". I believe the "MAST" stands for Minneapolis and Saint Paul and the "BROTHERS" indicates the Twin Cities; and I was amazed this past weekend to read that the Secretary of the Department of Homeland Security issued a warning about a possible terrorist attack at the Mall of America and the Mall of America is located in Minneapolis-Saint Paul, so now, let's read this interesting story.

This is from USA Today and the headline is: "Homeland Security Chief Be Vigilant At Malls" and the dateline for this is February the 22nd.

Please take note of that date. "The head of Homeland Security is urging shoppers to be vigilant after Al-Shabaab, a terror group tied to Al-Qaeda, named Mall of America among potential targets for attacks. The Secretary of Homeland Security warned shoppers at Minnesota's iconic Mall of America and similar venues to be vigilant in the wake of new terrorist threats. Mall of America heightened security after a video threatening a terror attack was released reportedly by a Somali military group with ties to Al-Qaeda. The group, Al-Shabaab, took responsibility for an attack in 2013 at the

And now, I want to show you a very interesting clip from another YouTuber called "Natane A", she is relatively new to this site, and she said that the Lord showed her two attacks in shopping malls and one of those attacks was probably Los Angeles but she did not recognize the other one but from her description it sounded very much like the Mall of America.

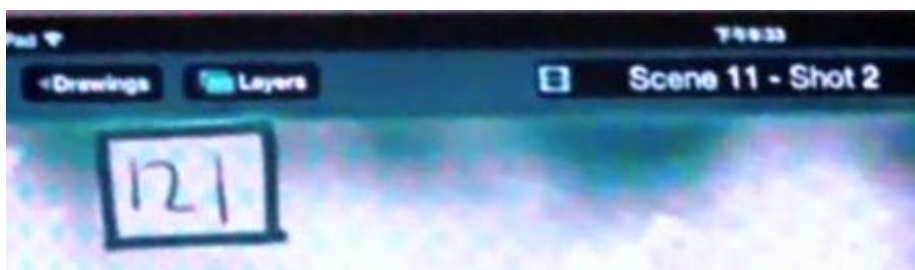

"I guess it's just important to know just to be very careful. One of the dreams I had was a lone wolf and the other dream that I had was, there were a whole bunch of terrorists in one mall and the mall was really big and it was made of a lot of glass and the Lord impressed it on spirit, it was in somewhere like in Los Angeles or maybe Orange County. It looked very similar to a Mall I've been to before so that's how I'm saying that. And the other one, I don't know, it had like an outdoor kind of promenade but it was on either a second or third level. It was kind of like an outdoor area and that was the one with the lone wolf and the Lord has really been putting it on my spirit like the last, I don't know, not quite a year but for a while to stay out of malls, that they're, you know, they're unsafe."

I mentioned that date, February 22nd, this past Sunday, which is when the Department of Homeland Security warned us about this possible terror attack because 2/22, that is three 2's, could be expressed in Roman numerals as II-II-II and, as I have been saying all along, that is a very likely date for a terror attack.

And as I have been pointing out very often, this ugly scene from the iPad commercial "Your Verse" shows a naked woman giving birth and I believe that little stick figure at the bottom center at the 6 o'clock position represents the Antichrist being born but at the very top we see those interesting numbers, "Scene 11-Shot 2" and the number 121 is a multiple of 11 times 11. Could those numbers be giving the date that we just passed? Or, will there be a future date for this false flag attack? Don't forget, the Illuminati have been giving this number 8:15 very often lately. Could that indicate the date of the next terror attack at Los Angeles and at Minneapolis-Saint Paul?

Or, does 8:15 reveal the location, as one of my subscribers suggested. I showed before how when you put a clock face on a map of America and you put the center of the clock at Minneapolis-Saint Paul, then the little hand points toward Denver, Colorado or Hoover Dam, and, if you extend the line far enough, to Los Angeles, California.

And the reason I take these threats from the Illuminati, as found in iPad commercials, very seriously, is because I have a pretty good track record. In that commercial, "Your Verse", where we saw the Antichrist being born from the naked woman, there also appeared this scene called "The Scapegoat" and the two proper names found there were Frank and Charles.

Charles referred to the massacre in Paris at the Charlie Hebdo Headquarters and Frank refers to France because France was originally settled by the Tribe of Franks. And if you take a closer look, you'll see the phrase "if the mouth offends, sometimes a hand is needed to cover it." That is a very clear threat that if you cross these forces of the Antichrist you're taking your life into your own hands.

And I know some of you may get tired of me saying this but, as I have repeated over and over, the one who will defeat the Antichrist and all of his ten sons is the Blessed Virgin Mary. Don't forget to pray your Rosary. Don't enter this final battle with the Antichrist without knowledge of your weapon. No soldier wants to go on the spiritual battlefield and be ignorant of the weapons which Jesus has chosen to defeat the Antichrist.
