

Satanic Image of Pope: "Flat Francis"

If you visit my YouTube channel, you will find I have a playlist there entitled "Evil Vatican Signs and Logos" and today I will be adding another video to that playlist about this ridiculous image of Pope Francis called "Flat Francis" and if you'll look closely you will see he's got red eyes. I don't know, do you think they're saying that Pope Francis is some kind of Satan? He's got a fish hook for a nose; he's got a goofy smile on his face, and what this is, is some kind of a campaign by the Catholic Extension Society. If you look at that sign the Pope is waving, that is the logo for the Catholic Extension Society and of course they love crazy mages like that cross. I mean that's a crooked cross; looks more like chemtrails, if you ask me.

In any event, what they are trying to do is to get you to go to their website and download this image. That's why they've got dashes around the outside. That's where you're supposed to cut it out. And then you're supposed to take a selfie with yourself and send it to them and this is supposed to "welcome" Pope Francis this September. This image is from their site so you can see they've got on there: "Welcome Flat Francis." Now that's an interesting title for the Pope, "Flat Francis". I mean it is alliterative but flat to me means boring and dull and two-dimensional. Of course, maybe they consider him the False Prophet too, who knows?

Anyway, here's what they say: "Help us welcome Pope Francis to America! Pope Francis is coming to America for the first time in September. Since Catholic Extension has been supporting the Catholic Church in America for 110 years we want you to help us show him the face of American Catholicism," and here's the picture. This is from their site. "Click here to download and print Flat Francis now. Take a photo with this cut-out, cut along the dotted lines, and submit it via Facebook or post it on Twitter/ Instagram with the flash tag 'Flat Francis'. Anyone can participate. We want you to send selfies, families, youth groups, campus ministries, choir ministries, etc, etc," and the artist for this is David Lee Cisco.

Well I don't know if the artist is demonic or Masonic but he sure created that type of an image: so let's take a closer look at this "Flat Francis". First of all, notice all the V's in that image, for example, the Rosary around his neck forms a V. There is a V in the shape of his mouth. The opening of his cape forms an upside-down V and, of course, V in Latin numbers signifies the number 5 and if you watch "TheGroxt" at all he'll tell you that we are entering the 5th Age. The Illuminati like to use the V to indicate the 5th Age and the 5th Age refers to Daniel's statue of Nebuchadnezzar where the statue is made out of gold, silver, brass, iron and the final tyranny, the feet, are made out of iron and clay, the 5th Age, that's the age we are about to enter: the One World Tyranny headed up by the Antichrist. So they are probably trying to tell us that the Pope is part of the Illuminati and I agree with them as far as that goes.

Notice also that the V of the Rosary and the V of his cape opening form a Masonic square and compass. That is not accidental, people. Are they telling us that the Pope is a Mason? Now, take a closer look at that Rosary. It's very interesting. There are 10 beads in each decade of the Rosary plus one Our Father but the beads are all the same size on this Rosary. There are 11 beads on the left, 11 beads on the right and one bead at the bottom of the V-shape. 11 of course is a favorite Illuminati number. It is also a favorite homosexual number. Are they telling us that Pope Francis is a homosexual? If you add the beads on the Rosary together there are 23 beads total. Of course, we all know what that signifies: 2 before 3 or over 3 symbolizes man before God or over God and it yields the fraction $\frac{2}{3}$ which is the decimal .666. Are they saying that Pope Francis is of the Antichrist?

Now, let's zoom in on that cross. Do you see anything odd about that? The left arm is shorter than the right arm. That is not a perfect cross. It is an asymmetrical cross. Notice one side is also darker than the other. That is not accidental; they did that on purpose.

They don't want a pure, perfect cross. This is an anti-Christian cross very much like those in the other videos in that playlist on my channel. But what's really interesting is to compare the cross with the square and compass. The square and compass of the Mason's is perfect. Notice where the beads cross the V, for example. That's a perfect intersection of those beads. Notice that there are no shadows on that form. That is perfectly balanced as far as light and shadow goes. So what are they telling us? They are telling us that that square and compass sits atop the cross. It's more important. It's perfect. It does not have any asymmetrical shadowing or shaping compared to the cross. The cross is inferior to the square and compass. That is the message this artist is trying to tell us in this ridiculous "Flat Francis" image.

After I counted the beads on the Rosary and got 23, I decided to count the dashes around the outside of the image. Now you might think that's kind of silly of me, but I counted them anyway and I came up with 65, one less than 66, the number of the Antichrist. So I said, well, I better count them again: 1,2,3,4,5,6,7..., 65 dashes. But then I thought, I wonder if there is another dash hidden in that image to give a total number of 66? Take a closer look at that strange point on the top of Pope Francis' head in his skullcap; that is not a horn. The Antichrist has ten horns, the false prophet has two horns but that horn is not pointed. It's flat on each end. That is your 66th dash.

None of this is accidental, people. This artist knew exactly what he was doing. Hey, maybe the Catholic Extension Service told him what they wanted. Believe me, the entire Catholic Church has been corrupted and taken over by the Gentiles exactly as prophesied in Revelation, chapter 11:2. And there are a lot of other strange anomalies in this image: this Pope's got red eyes, he's got blue hair and blue eyebrows. He's got two black shoes facing in the same direction.

And I got the idea for this video from one of my subscribers Joao Machado, I believe I'm pronouncing that right, in any case, I'll put a link to his Twitter account below because he's got even more pictures and they're very interesting and I want to thank him especially for giving me the idea for this video. And if you subscribers see anything else in this image be sure to put it in the comments below. I've not even, for example, taken a look at this image upside down. There may be even more Satanic things in it.
