

WILL OBAMA FULFILL DANIEL'S TIMELINE THIS WEEK?

On this program I want to talk about the possibility of our President Barack Obama triggering the Seven Years of Tribulation this week. There are two ways that Obama could start the Tribulation. The first would be by triggering World War III, and the second would be by signing a covenant with the Nation of Israel. Now I am predicting that neither of these will occur, but let's look at the possibilities just the same.

If you are familiar with Dewey Bruton's Daniel's Timeline series, you know that the Tribulation must start this week because he says the midpoint of the Tribulation Period will be March 22nd, 2013, and if you subtract three and one-half years from that date, then today September 22nd 2009 will start the Tribulation Period. Now like many of the false prophets out there Dewey Bruton believes that a confirming of a covenant between the Antichrist and Israel will trigger the Seven Years of Tribulation as found in Daniel chapter 9, verse 27. And it is true that Barack Obama will be meeting with Benjamin Netanyahu this week. Now if Barack Obama is the Antichrist as so many claim and if the covenant is confirmed this week, you should keep a sharp eye out because that prophecy may be fulfilled. If not, I believe Mr. Bruton is going to have to adjust his Daniel's timeline.

Let me give you two reasons why I do not believe this will occur. First of all Dewey Bruton says that Jesus will return in the Fall of 2016. I believe that is one year too soon. I predict that Armageddon will occur in October/November of 2017 and it's interesting that we both use the same time sequence. Dewey Bruton is correct in assuming that the starting point for the fig tree parable is the reestablishment of the State of Israel by the United Nations in November of 1947. This was the date when the command went forth. When you add seventy years, that is one generation, to that date you get October/November of 2017.

Even though I believe that Dewey Bruton is incorrect as far as the midpoint of the Tribulation being in March of 2013, I do agree that when Jesus returns he will fulfill the Fall Feasts of the Hebrew calendar, it's just that I believe that this will be in the Fall of 2017 rather than 2016.

The second reason I don't believe this will occur is because the trigger of the Seven Years of Tribulation will be World War III and not a confirming of a covenant between the Antichrist and Israel. Now it just so happens that President Obama, who is the leopard, will be meeting with Dmitry Medvedev who is the bear. So it is possible that Obama will provoke World War III this week although, as I say, I believe it is more likely next year just before the elections.

The reason I say just before the elections is because I believe Obama's popularity will plummet and his poll numbers will dive so far that it will become apparent to the Democrats that the Republicans will retake the Senate and the House, and I don't believe the Democrats are going to allow this to happen. They would rather provoke World War III than to lose their base of power. And I'm not saying that you can become complacent. It's possible that Dewey Bruton is half right and I'm half right.

Maybe I am right that World War III triggers the Tribulation Period but he may be right about the date. In other words, it's possible that the leopard, that is Obama, will provoke the bear, that is Russia, into World War III starting this week. So we need to be prepared at all times. The reason I don't believe that when the leopard, that is Obama, meets with the bear, that is Medvedev, this week that that meeting will trigger World War III is because the decision to start World War III will be made by the Last King of the North and that is Vladimir Putin.

As you know Obama made a big concession on putting missiles in Poland. I believe this was a good step in not provoking the Russians, however, he did not get anything in return. If Obama really wants to prevent the Iranians from getting nuclear weapons he must deal with the Last King of the North and that is Putin.

Even though I believe that Dewey Bruton is wrong about the starting point of the Seven Years of Tribulation, I do give him a lot of credit and his Daniel Timeline series has a lot of very important information in it. I recommend if you want to learn about the Jewish feasts and the Jubilee years and so on, be sure to watch his series. And remember the false prophets out there don't even dare give a date. Why not? Because they don't have a clue.

So in conclusion, whether Dewey Bruton is correct or whether I am correct on the specifics, it is inevitable that Barack Obama will trigger World War III. He is not the Antichrist but he is the leopard as found in Daniel chapter number 7 and the Last King of the South as found in Daniel chapter number 11.
