

Super Bowl Blackout: Did You Get the Message?

For all of those of you who have been asking me: yes, the blackout at the Super Bowl was prophetic, and yes, it was from the hand of Almighty God. God was telling us that we are almost at the midpoint of the seven years of tribulation. And, He is telling us, that He will decide when the mid point of that tribulation occurs, not some Illuminati puppets, like the ones who staged the half-time show at the Super Bowl.

The real half-time of the Super Bowl occurred when God decided it and at the point which God divided the game: there were two separate games really. The first game was won by Baltimore, 28 to 6, and the second game was won by the Forty Niners, 25 to 6. Of course, when you add the two scores together, Baltimore won the Super Bowl. But the point is, the second half of the game, which corresponds to the second half of the tribulation, was much different than the first half of the game which symbolized the first half of the tribulation. The second half of the tribulation, Jesus refers to as, the Great Tribulation, and He says it will be the worst time in the entire history of mankind.

Also, this blackout was a symbol for the timing of the Rapture. Remember, Jesus said He will come 'like a thief in the night'. He said 'IN' the night, not at the end of the night, not at the beginning of the night. He also said He will come like a bridegroom for His five wise virgins and He comes at midnight, in other words, MID tribulation. And that is why, this power blackout at the Super Bowl occurred in the middle of the game.

Next, I want to take a look at a Hyundai television commercial which aired during the Super Bowl, and which I also believe is a prophecy from Almighty God. And first I want to thank the Groxt who already did an analysis of this advertisement and I believe he got it partly right. The advertisement shows a young couple, driving along the highway in a Hyundai, of course, and they successfully pass nine different hazards. And I believe these hazards symbolize nine great woes which we are going to experience in the second half of the Great Tribulation.

First, we see a somewhat overweight motorcycle rider.

And what is significant is his underwear which he is showing the top of. In this close up view, you can see he is wearing leopard print underwear, and, of course, the Leopard symbolizes Barack Obama.

I want to congratulate the Groxt for correctly identifying the man on the motorcycle, as representative of Barack Obama, because of his leopard skin underwear. Now, I have been preaching on YouTube for almost five years, that Barack Obama is the Leopard as found in Daniel chapter 7, verse number 6, and it is high time that the rest of you so called prophets on YouTube got up to speed.

This overweight motorcycle rider, with the leopard print underwear, blows a kiss to this attractive woman in the passenger side of the Hyundai vehicle.

This attractive woman is the most important person in this entire Hyundai advertisement. Please notice the striped shirt she is wearing, because she wears a total of five different ensembles in this advertisement even though she is presumably on the same trip.

Also, especially, please note her beaded necklace. This attractive woman represents Mary; the beaded necklace which she is wearing, symbolizes the Rosary. The five clothing ensembles which she alternates wearing throughout this advertisement, symbolize the five decades in a Rosary. (The other four outfits are shown below.)

In this advertisement, it is the Hyundai vehicle, of course, which successfully manoeuvres around the nine hazardous obstacles. But, of course, symbolically speaking, it is Mary and her Rosary, who will successfully lead us around the hazardous obstacles of the Great Tribulation.

The next obstacle for the Hyundai is a horse trailer and the Groxt correctly associated them with the Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse.

They also symbolize the horses of the Russian invading army, as described in Daniel chapter 11, verse number 40. I'm not sure if the car's license plate at the bottom has any significance: it reads 'BS1070'.

Following the horse trailer, comes what is probably the most intriguing vehicle of all of the obstacles which the Hyundai must pass, and that is a pickup which is loaded ridiculously high with household items.

This pickup truck symbolizes Mystery Babylon. There are 28 items, more or less, piled on the back of this tall pickup, and that is a reference to the 28 items associated with the Whore of Babylon in Revelation 18, verses 12 and 13. These are piled high in the shape of a very tall tree and that is a reference to the giant tree in Daniel, chapter number 4, which also is a symbol of End Times Babylon. In fact, at the very top of this pile of household goods, which is shaped like a tree, there is a small tree, and this tall tree is about to try to go under this overpass.

Towards the end of this ad, this tall load of household items is demolished, as the pickup truck attempts to go under the low overpass.

This symbolizes the destruction of Mystery Babylon, which, of course, is primarily the United States. The tree at the top is knocked off. This is a reference to Daniel, chapter number 4 and in that chapter, the great tree also symbolizes Babylon and judgment is pronounced on that tree by the two prophets Enoch and Elijah. They are the 'watcher' and the 'holy one' who come down from heaven. In other words, this advertisement is one more warning from Almighty God about the destruction of the United States, and I believe it comes through the prophet Enoch, very much as Enoch warned us through the music video, Gangnam Style.

Next the Hyundai must manoeuvre around a car of newlyweds. I'm not sure what this license plate reads, maybe 'SEM501'.

Behind the driver's side window, on this newlywed's car, we see a Masonic hand symbol for sex; the round shape symbolizes the female parts, the three fingers standing upright symbolize the male parts, and I won't tell you what this middle finger stands for, because if I did, Anderson Cooper would put me on his Ridiculist again. But, please note, this is the finger which is always wearing a wedding ring.

The other image on this window is a bare foot, and the Groxt seems to think this symbolizes 'The Pleiades', but don't forget, all of these vehicles, which the Hyundai passes, represent obstacles, that is, woes of the End Times.

And I believe this foot sticking up in the air is a symbol for childbirth. I'm not saying that childbirth is going on in the car, because the woman who represents Mary is rather shocked at what she sees.

And notice that she is wearing a different outfit, in this case, a blue collar. And childbirth is a much better indication for an End Time woe, because, as Jesus said, it would be like a woman in labor. In other words, the second half of the Tribulation, as symbolized by the second half of the Super Bowl, will be much different from the first. The labor pangs are going to be much more noticeable.

In part two of this series, I will show how these nine obstacles in this advertisement, do indeed symbolize woes of the End Times, and I will show where they are found in Bible prophecy, and how they relate to President Barack Obama. I will also show you the five 'woes' which Alicia Keys sings in her song, 'Obama on Fire'. Take a listen to that if you get a chance, because she does sing 'woe, woe, woe, woe, woe'. Those are five 'woes' of the End Times.
