

Subscriber Alert! Watch "Death of a Tree"

This will be just a very brief video I'm outdoors enjoying the wonderful Adirondacks spring. The leaves are not quite out on the trees yet, and a couple of days ago I watched a very interesting movie by my good friend John Martoccia, and the name of the movie is "Death of a Tree", and John both wrote and directed this film, and its really very interesting, much better than anything you get out of Hollywood.

I will put a link below so that you can watch the trailer, and some scenes from it. It will take you directly to his channel, and he also wrote and directed an earlier film called Vito Bonafacci. Now if you're interested in purchasing either of these two really wonderful movies, I will put also a link to the website where you can purchase them. I think they cost a little under US$20 each. They are well worth it, and he is trying to raise funds to create a third movie which I am really looking forward to watching, so good luck John! I hope my subscribers support your very wonderful efforts.

<https://www.youtube.com/channel/UCcraO3v9a3ytg2Q0jw6ntQA>
<http://anthonystellaproductions.com/store/>

