

Phallic Neckline Challenge for Anderson Cooper

Today I have on a less formal polo shirt because I'm not going to talk about my favorite topic which is Bible Prophecy. Instead, I'm going to talk about the hypocrisy and the inaccuracy of the mainstream media, especially Anderson Cooper, and I'm going to challenge you, Anderson Cooper: have you seen that story about the phallic neckline? And if you have, are you going to make fun of all those people in the mainstream media who see that phallic image the way you made fun of me? Are you going to put them on your Ridiculist the way you put me on your Ridiculist?

And now, for you, my subscribers, who don't know what I am talking about, I received a very interesting email from one of my subscribers, and here's what that person wrote: "I was roaming the Internet and came across this article." And I'm going to read this article to you in a minute. "Isn't it funny from when you pointed out all those phallic symbols in the artwork of the Denver International Airport, people made fun of you." So as you look at these Denver Airport murals, I pointed out that the artist, Leo Tanguma, included not just phallic symbols but also female symbols and that's very important. And this writer continues: "But here is an article of a similar nature and it is so popular but I think it is as you say because you are a prophet, people want to deride you."

So now, without further ado, here is that by now infamous neckline and I want to read the article which my subscriber sent to me. As you can see the headline, this is from Yahoo News: "Penis- shaped neckline sparks social media frenzy" and here's what they wrote: "An unsuspecting news reader has become an Internet sensation after her 'phallic-shaped' neckline sparked a social media storm. Channel ten host Natarsha Belling wore a conservative green jacket with a neckline- which some viewers interpreted as a 'penis- shaped' cut-out- during a Sunday night news reports."

And here's what the Inquisitor wrote: "Natarsha Belling's phallic jacket is latest social media sensation. Australian news anchor Natarsha Belling's green jacket is creating a buzz online after the shape of the jacket's neckline was said to resemble a penis quickly dubbed the

'phallic jacket'. The debate over Belling's outfit could rival the 'What color is this dress?' phenomenon." And here's what the Huffington Post wrote: "It shouldn't happen to a news reader...but it does and it did. Natarsha Belling became a viral Internet star this weekend. Belling's notoriety came after some wags remarked that the neckline of her jacket somewhat resemble the shape of male genitalia." And here's what Malaysia Today wrote: "A photo of a phallic-looking neckline on a newscaster jacket attracts more than 113,000 likes on Facebook" and the title of this article was "Australian newsreader's X-rated neckline causes a stir".

So, my question to you Anderson Cooper: are you going to put all these mainstream media types on your Ridiculist? Are you going to make fun of them the way you made fun of me? And now, I'm going to turn the tables on you people in the mainstream media. You are the ones who are obsessed with phallic symbols. This is not a phallic symbol; you are just looking at her neckline. You are leaving out her face. What she is giving you is a demonic image of the End Times. This is a satanic sign. She is showing you the Ankh Cross. Yes, you see the T part, the lower part of the Ankh Cross, which you interpret as a phallic symbol, but you leave out the face on top. The face on top is an oval. It represents the female form.

And for those of you who don't remember what an Ankh Cross looks like; take a good look at this symbol because there are two parts to this symbol. There is the lower t-shape, which does represent the male genitalia, but there is an oval shape on top which represents the female genitalia. An Ankh Cross symbolizes sexual intercourse and that is the image we saw from that Australian newscaster and you people in news media, you only saw part of the image. You saw the phallic symbol but you did not see the evil, demonic form.

And now, I never like to leave you, my subscribers, with images of either phallic symbols or satanic symbols. Here is an image of the "woman who will crush the head of the serpent" way back in Genesis 3:15. Mary is the one who will crush Satan in these End Times.
