

Toothless Tiger: Obama Bible Prophecy?

This will be just a very brief video on Tiger Woods' missing tooth and this is a kind of an interesting story. He evidently attended, his girlfriend, I guess, Lindsay Vonn's, Alpine ski victory in Cortina, Italy earlier this week. She set a record for the number of total World Cup victories for women and that's quite an achievement. Now both have been divorced so I'm not sure what they mean by being boyfriends or girlfriends.

In any event, Tiger Woods showed up with this missing tooth. Now I say he showed up because his publicist came up with this fantastic story that he was in a group of photographers and as they rushed towards the podium, one of the photographers swung around and knocked his tooth out. Well, a lot of people think that's all phony baloney because with all those professional sports photographers there, how come none of them caught a picture of Tiger Woods trying to find his tooth on the ground or maybe some blood coming out of the tooth socket? In any event, it looks like it's just maybe some kind of a publicity stunt.

Several of my subscribers alerted me to this event because they know that in the past I have equated the careers of Tiger Woods and Barack Obama and there are quite a few similarities. They are both very prominent African-Americans. At the time Obama was elected, they were both at the top of their fields. They were number one in the world. Secondly, of course, Tiger Woods is known as Tiger, that's his real name, and Barack Obama, don't forget, is the Leopard in Bible Prophecy.

And, as you can see from this picture from the cover of Golf Digest, both are avid golfers. Of course Tiger is a professional golfer; however, what is really scary is the skeleton ski mask that Tiger Woods was wearing. Does that forebode an ominous future for Barack Obama? In fact, I am surprised someone has not already made a video on YouTube saying that this is a premonition of a head wound to the Antichrist! Of course, I do not believe Obama is the Antichrist; however, Barack Obama is a loser in Bible Prophecy. Could this event be a prophecy of Obama losing World War III as found in Daniel chapter 11:40 or could it mean the end of the Leopard as found in Daniel 7:6, or the defeat of both Obama and the United States as found in Jeremiah chapter 50:44?

Now, in conclusion, I consider my co-prophecies as found on my www.thirdeaglemedia.com website to be far more important than those of Tiger Woods' missing tooth. And you should visit that site and you should at least look at those four PDF files of Zachariah's End Times prophecies as found in his chapters 12 through 14 and, it would not hurt to download those pages because in these End Times, in the Great Tribulation coming up, you will be looked upon as an expert in these prophecies and there will be very few others because right now, my prophecies of popular events, such as Tiger Woods, get a lot more views than my prophecies of Daniel or Zachariah or Ezekiel. But, in the long run, those prophecies will be much more important and you need to understand exactly what those prophets are prophesying for these End Times.
