

iPad “Operation Scapegoat” on 11th Feb 2014?

Tomorrow is the 11th day of February, that is 2-11, and I want to review some of the possible false flag events as depicted in this evil, iPad commercial. And some of you are saying I do these videos just to take credit in case something happens or to take credit for preventing something from happening, and neither is the case. I do these videos to let the Illuminati know that we are onto their plans. We know that they have done false flags in the past and they are not going to get away with them as they have been doing.

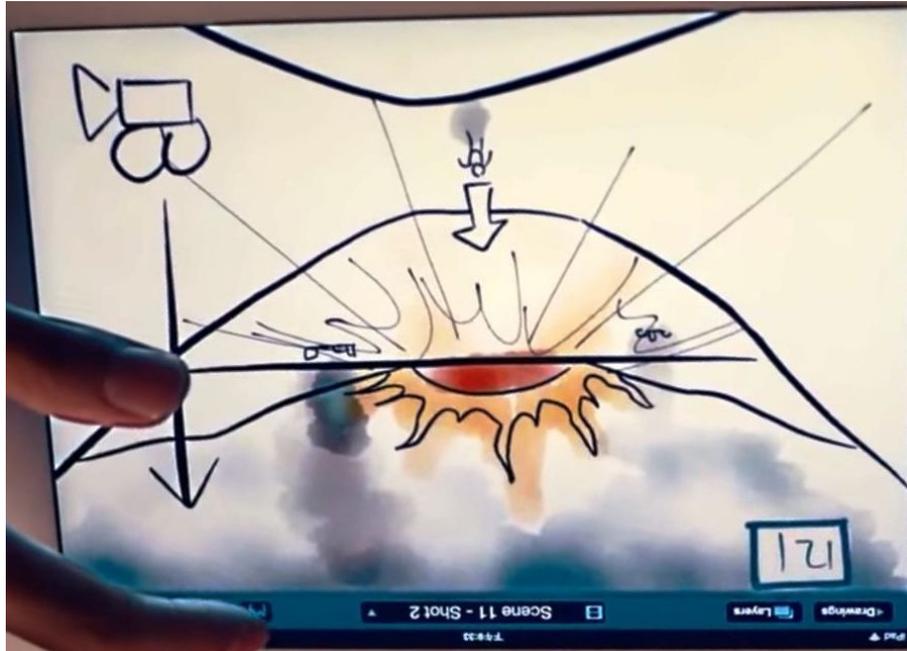

And a lot of you, my subscribers, have pointed out some of the very likely possibilities hidden in this image.

This is without a doubt, a line drawing of a woman giving birth and she is giving birth to this little stick figure in the middle, who undoubtedly symbolizes the Antichrist or the New World Order. This could be the ‘little horn’, in other words, and in the background we see what could be a nuclear explosion, and over here on the side a very smoky event and the smoke fills the sky. So, there are at least two possible false flags in this image.

And one of my subscribers pointed out this could be the San Onofre power plant or it could be any nuclear plant. Or it could be an image of the nuclear plant from the side view. And if you turn this image over, as quite a few of my subscribers have suggested, then you see a picture of the Hoover Dam or it could be a similar dam.

Jonathan Kleck says that the Hoover Dam was constructed in the shape of a female reproductive system and that is very likely what could signal a possible false flag. Another one of my subscribers suggested that a bomb is falling into a volcano. So, we have several possibilities.

So now, let's take a look at some other evil images from this iPad commercial which may give us clues as to what the evil people who run this planet may have planning for us tomorrow. February 11th as a possible date is an obvious interpretation of 'Scene 11 -Shot 2', and the number 121 is a multiple of 11 times 11, and of course, 'Shot 2' could refer to an assassination attempt.

Next, let's review that clipboard scene which is called 'The Scapegoat,' in fact, I think this is going to be called 'Operation Scapegoat.' And we see some possible dates on that scene and also a warning to anyone who talks. Some of my subscribers have suggested that 12:16 a.m. refers to the date, and of course 'Operation Scapegoat' means this is a false flag event.

Some of my subscribers have suggested that 'Charles' refers to Prince Charles, 'Frank' refers to Pope Francis, and, of course, the most ominous phrase is, 'Sometimes when the mouth offends, a hand is needed to cover it.' This is a clear warning to those who know about this false flag event, to keep it a big secret (1).

And this storm hunter scene is another expression of the false flag events we've seen in the iPad drawing. We have this cloud at the top which indicates the smoky event and this GPS at the bottom which indicates the explosion.

And don't forget, this entire iPad commercial is about deception.

There may be some hidden false flag significance to this band formation of a dinosaur on a football field. Does this indicate a zero (ground zero) in the middle or perhaps the location of Ohio. So, until Apple comes up with some kind of an explanation for this evil picture from their evil iPad commercial, I think our explanation of this as a possible false flag event is very logical.

1) It turned out that 'Frank' referred to France and 'Charles' referred to the Charlie Hebdo false flag terrorist attack in Paris.

'Your Verse iPad' Commercial links

<https://vimeo.com/112042156>

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=8sGOB4njjHg>