

Sporting Events Verify Bible Prophecy!

Now, I'm going to skip the rest of my usual introduction because this is just a very short video. As you know, I have been saying for quite some time now that God sometimes verifies Bible Prophecy in sporting events and the example I gave just a week or so ago was that, Tommy Morrison, former Heavyweight Champion, died at the age of 44. And, as you know, Barack Obama's number in Bible Prophecy is 44 because he is our 44th President.

And a subscriber sent me a note saying that when Tommy Morrison won his Heavyweight Championship, he defeated George Foreman and George Foreman was 44 himself when he was defeated, and that brings me up to the boxing match this weekend where Floyd Mayweather will be going for his 45th victory. Will he achieve that? He has won 44 times. Now, I'm not going to make a prediction this time because I previously predicted that there would be no 45th Super Bowl and I got burned on that one because our Lord did not choose to make that particular event prophetic but He may this weekend so, I will be keeping my eyes out and you should too.

And that brings me up to another occurrence this past week and that is a YouTube subscriber by the name of Rozeboosje, and he spells that Rozeboosje subscribed to my channel and I was very much surprised at this because he has been a regular critic of mine. So I thought I would go to his channel, and I never did find out if he has changed his mind or not, but right away, I saw he had a very interesting title on one of his videos called 'Magic Head Wound' and of course I immediately thought in the book of Revelation of the Antichrist who suffers a head wound. So I will show you a clip from Rozeboosje's video; I don't think he will mind. And it's really very comical because this Spanish soccer player fakes a head wound and the number on his jersey is 11.

Now this occurred several years ago but I do believe it is very prophetic. This sporting event our Lord did use to verify Bible Prophecy because the number 11 is another number for the Antichrist.

It's not as well known as 666 but it is also a homosexual number, and also the starter numbers on a bar code are configured as 11, that is two thin lines, and there are three of them on a bar code: the first, the middle, and the last, and they represent the number 666. So this Spanish player who was faking his head wound was a reflection of the Antichrist, and as you know, Scripture says the Antichrist suffers a head wound.

And as I have said all along, this does not mean that he personally will suffer a head wound because the Antichrist is a beast with seven heads, in other words, only one of his seven heads suffers a wound and it's not necessarily a head wound. And what do those seven heads represent? This is what we need to find out and, as I have been saying, those 7 heads represent the world's 7 most important religions and the seven world's religious leaders who will support the Antichrist; and the number one religious leader who will support the Antichrist is the False Prophet.

And even Perry Stone is beginning to pick up on this. I notice in one of his recent books he admits that the Antichrist has seven heads with names of blasphemy and only one of his heads is wounded. So, let's take a look at that passage in Scripture. 'And I saw one of his heads as it were wounded to death; and all the world wondered after the beast.' Well, of course, this is very interesting. I am predicting that the False Prophet will suffer the wound, not necessarily a head wound, that the Antichrist will revive him and bring him back to life, whereupon the False Prophet will claim that the Antichrist is divine.

But, as we can see from this passage in the Bible, John says 'as it were', in other words, this is all fakery. This is a plot between the Antichrist and the False Prophet, very much like that 'Magic Head Wound' by that soccer player. And I want to thank Roseboosje for letting me know about that video and for uploading it, and as you can see, it's very comical that the Antichrist's head wound will be phony.