

Will Vatican Honor or Dishonor Mother Teresa?

On this program I'm going to ask a question: 'At the canonization of Mother Teresa this weekend, will the Vatican honor her or dishonor her?'

Mother Teresa

And the reason I ask that is because two years ago, at a similar canonization of Pope John 23 and Pope John Paul 2, the Vatican introduced a horrible One World Religion logo which is evil and pagan and is based on the Egyptian symbol for Hathor the cow goddess.

Hathor the Egyptian cow goddess wearing her headdress, a sun disk with a rearing cobra set between the cow-horns.

Now, Mother Teresa deserves to be honored; and we know that because she is hated in the news media. And the reason is because she was very pro-life. She was against abortion. To all of those idiots who say that the world is overpopulated she said: 'Too many children? That's like saying there are too many flowers'. And Mother Teresa made a lot of enemies especially among the atheists.

And I got a very interesting email this morning from one of my subscribers, Botany Spears, and this is what he wrote: 'Mr. William Tapley, it has come to my understanding that international pop superstar, Miss Rita Ora, is due to perform at the Vatican this weekend.' Well, I don't think it will be at the actual canonization but at some kind of a concert at the Vatican on the night before, that would be Saturday night. But what does that mean? Will the Vatican change the Catholic aspects of the Vatican to suit miss Rita Ora, the pop star, and here's why I ask that question; 'she is there to honor the canonization of Mother Teresa because of their shared Albanian heritage but no one is mentioning her Muslim background.' Well, that's very interesting. 'Is this an act of New World Order puppet masters to further degrade Christ and all Christian faiths? Please expose this.'

Well, thank you very much for that email and the reason I am concerned about the Vatican inviting a Muslim pop star to perform is our experience with Barack Obama. When Barack Obama spoke at Georgetown University they had to cover up all of their Christian images, which was a sellout, but I'm not surprised. The Vatican, as we know from Bible prophecy, in John, chapter 11, verse number 2: 'The holy city is being trodden underfoot by the Gentiles' and one of the ways we know that is because they introduced that horrible, ugly, satanic, pagan, One World Religion logo which is based on Hathor the cow goddess and that image is right out of pagan Egypt.

Now, pagan Egypt didn't realize it was a desecration of the Divine Trinity but that's what it is. They were inspired by Satan. The two horns at the bottom; they are a perversion of God the Father and God the Son. That oval sun like shape in the middle; that's a perversion of the Holy Spirit. And no wonder that was adopted by a taken-over Vatican in place of a true cross. In fact, many Bible scholars believe that the golden calf which the Israelites worshipped when they exited out of Egypt was in fact an image of Hathor the cow goddess.

It reminds me: I used to listen to Yankee ball games and every time Mickey Mantle hit a home run, Phil Rizzuto would exclaim 'holy cow' and I didn't know why he said that (I knew it was a popular expression) but I would not be surprised if 'holy cow' refers to Hathor the cow goddess.

the same as Hathor the cow goddess, and we see that oval feminine shape in the middle, once again a perversion of the Divine Trinity.

I'm not sure they will use the same logo at Mother Teresa's canonization. Maybe they will use this logo which is from the Mother Teresa Center and this is also a very pagan logo. First of all, what is that American flag? It looks pretty strange to me. And notice that the cross; only about half of the Cross shows; and look at the top half of that cross. It's cut in a strange angle: looks to me like a guillotine blade, if you ask me. But just like that horrible Vatican logo of two years ago we see the two horns on either side,

Now, they may not use that logo; they may use what someone is describing as the official logo of Mother Teresa's canonization and this doesn't look quite as bad although you will see that there is a wavy cross formed out of the 'T' of Teresa although if you turn this image upside down that 'T' looks to me very much like a hammer and sickle.

But, in conclusion, let me remind you that all is not dark even coming out of the taken-over Vatican, even coming forth from the False Prophet, Pope Francis, because there is an image which will defeat all of those evil images and that is, of course, the miraculous image of Our Lady of Guadalupe and that comes from the hand of Almighty God Himself. Notice Mary is standing on those two horns; she is crushing the serpent. Those horns as a black crescent also indicates Islam.
