

Flat Earth PsyOp and the Mark of the Beast

This will be part 3 in my series on the Flat Earth PsyOp and I want to tweak my two previous programs a little bit. I believe that the Government is involved but I think that, even more, there are some high tech companies like Google and Apple involved. And secondly, I believe it concerns the Mark of the Beast, that is the False Prophet, more than the Antichrist and the reason I say that is because in Bible Prophecy, the False Prophet precedes the Antichrist. And later on in this program, I want to talk about a super secret meeting that Pope Francis had with the Chief Executive Officer of Apple, Tim Cook, and the Chief Executive Officer of Google, Eric Schmidt.

But, before we do that, I want to give you one more very convincing demonstration, at least in my mind, that the earth must be a globe and the Flat Earth Model is ridiculous. I've taken two basketballs, set them up on five-gallon pails to illustrate how the sun at 3,000 miles overhead on the Flat Earth Model would be much larger than the sun 8,000 miles distance, let's say between Los Angeles and Jerusalem.

Now the basketball on the left is clearly larger than the basketball on the right and that's because I have set them up to scale. The basketball on the left which appears closer is set at the equivalent of 3,000 miles away from the camera. The basketball on the right is set the equivalent of 8,000 miles away from the camera, just exactly as it would appear on the Flat Earth model.

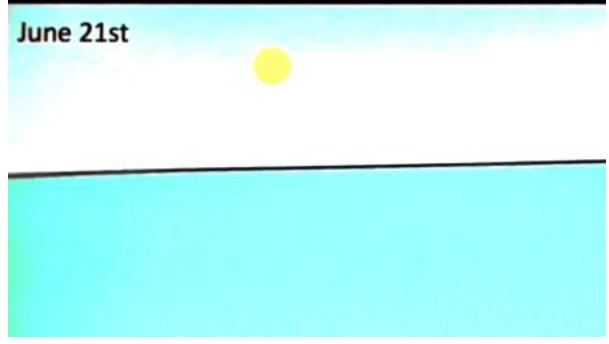

And it's very obvious, as it should according to science, the basketball on the right appears to be one-third the size of the basketball on the left. It should be fairly obvious that the Flat Earth Model is entirely bogus.

We know from our own eyes that the sun and the moon do not get smaller as they approach the horizon, in other words, as they get 8,000 miles away, according to the flat-earthers, and yet they should. We also know that the sun and the moon go below the horizon. The flat-earthers say, 'Well, that's because they've reached the vanishing point'; but of course that's pure idiocy because the sun and the moon do not vanish, they do not even get smaller.

It's obvious that the world is a globe, that the moon is hundreds of thousands of miles away from the Earth, and in the case of the sun, 93 million miles away. That explains why they do not get smaller and that also explains why they go below the horizon. The Flat Earth model is utter stupidity but, remember, this is a PsyOp. That is exactly what they want you to think. They want flat-earthers to appear as kooks and that's because they identify themselves, in practically every case, as Bible believing Christians. They are not really Bible believing Christians, they just want Bible believing Christians to look like kooks.

June 21st

And now I want to show you an interesting and actually accurate graphic by a flat-earther and he showed what the sun looks like at the Arctic Circle on June 21st, that is, in the middle of summer where it never sets: there are 24 hours of daylight. Although this graphic is accurate as far as depicting the sun in a 360 degree arc around the North Pole on June 21st. However, it doesn't show what the Arctic would look like on December 21st when the sun has gone down and it is dark for 24 hours a day at which time the sun is up for 24 hours a day in Antarctica.

The flat-earthers say that the sun does not go below the horizon which of course we know it does. They claim that the sun reaches the vanishing point and that's why it gets dark in the Arctic. That is utter nonsense and even though I admire this particular graphic It is phony as far as not giving you the complete picture.

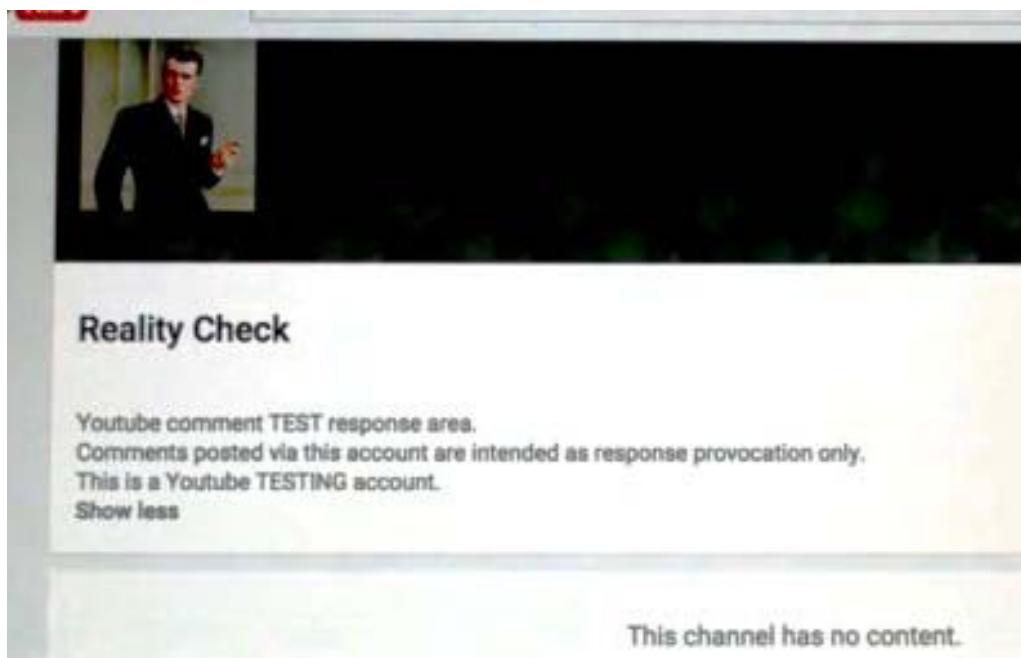

Next, I want to go over why I believe this Flat Earth PsyOp may be instigated by Google as much as the government. Some of my subscribers have suggested that even the comments on my videos are computer-generated; they are not real people. They are flat-earthers pretending to be Christian. And it's interesting that I received a comment on one of my videos, it's on one of my Bible prophecy videos, and I believe it is definitely computer-generated and here's what 'he' wrote and this is from a YouTube channel called 'Reality Check': 'So, the Illuminati know people are figuring out their plans ahead of time and they still provide us with clues. You are beyond nutso.'

That's one of the characteristics of all of these computer-generated comments, they begin with an insult. I don't know, I guess that's to rile you up. And this computer-generated comment continues:

'ThirdEagle, put your tinfoil hat back on and take your meds regularly for a change.'

Well, I thought that was kind of comical but now let's take a look at this 'Reality Check's' channel and I think you will be surprised.

Here's what is posted on this 'Reality Check' channel: 'YouTube comment TEST response area. Comments posted via this account are intended as response provocation only. This is a YouTube TESTING account.' Now I fully understand that this 'Reality Check' could be just someone trying to pull our legs. On the other hand, it could be a genuine phony account. The reason I say that is because I get many comments of that type. They include first of all an insult and they never address the issues raised in my video.

In other words, on this video, that's how a lot of supposed flat-earthers will respond. Check the comments below. They will not address the issues that I raise, that the sun and the moon must get smaller in size as they move away from your eye on the Flat Earth Model. Secondly, the Flat Earth Model never shows the sun or the moon going below the horizon. They can't show that because the sun or the moon according to them are three thousand miles up in the sky. And thirdly, the sun or the moon on a Flat Earth Model can never reach the vanishing point which is their silly explanation of why the daylight turns into darkness and of course we know just from common observation, both the sun and the moon, rise above the horizon, they set below the horizon and they do not change their size.

And now I want to move from the obvious to the hidden. In the past 10 days, Pope Francis has met secretly with two leaders of tech giants and that would be Tim Cook of Apple and Eric Schmidt of Google and I believe the parent company is called Alphabet.

Apple's Tim Cook visits Pope Francis in the Vatican

Eric Schmidt, executive chairman of Google holding company Alphabet, shakes hands with Pope Francis during an audience he held in the pontiff's studio at the Vatican, Friday, Jan. 15, 2016.

These meetings were held in super secrecy. There were no press releases from either the Vatican or from Apple or Google.

I want to show you how that is extremely unusual. Famous people visiting the Vatican always let you know what's going on, for example, just this past week, Leo DiCaprio met with Pope Francis and the headline said: 'Leo DiCaprio meets Pope Francis: The 'Revenant' actor and multiple Oscar nominee met with Pope Francis at the Vatican to discuss their mutual passion for the environment.' They let you know what was going on. Last week also, 'Pope Francis and Hassan Rohani of Iran discuss MidEast unrest'. The leader of Iran met with the Pope.

They all like to meet the Pope. They like this kind of publicity they receive but they also tell you what they are doing. About a year and a half ago, for example, Senator Edward Markey met the Pope. Here's what the headline was: 'U.S. Senator Edward Markey Meets Pope for Climate Change Discussion. Senator Edward J. Markey met with the Pope and other high-level officials from the Vatican to discuss the importance of acting on the warming planet instead of waiting idly.'

So what sets this meeting of the Pope with Tim Cook and Eric Schmidt apart? They were totally quiet as to what they were talking about. That raises my suspicions because in Bible prophecy, there is a high-tech device called the Mark of the Beast. It is implantable because the Bible says it goes under the skin of the forehead or the right hand. Yes, this story was covered in the media but, as I say, they emphasized the secrecy of it. This is from the Religion News Service and Rosie Scammell writes: 'Pope Francis is increasingly turning his attention to the stars of Silicon Valley meeting Apple's CEO Tim Cook just days after shaking hands with Eric Schmidt of Google. The Pontiff spent around 15 minutes in a private conversation with Cook on Friday, January 22nd. Francis regularly meets with dignitaries at the Vatican but the arrival of the Apple Chief raised eyebrows particularly for its timing. Just a week earlier, the Pope had met with Schmidt, currently Executive Chairman of Alphabet Incorporated, parent company of Google, where he served as CEO for a decade'

Now I know, some of you are going to say, 'Well, this was just a private personal meeting with the Pope.' But why meet with two Chief top Executives within a week of each other? And why did Eric Schmidt bring his number two in command, Jared Cohen. These were not personal meetings. They were not discussing the next iPhone. They were not discussing the next Apple watch. They were discussing something high-tech that they are about to announce. That's why it was secret.

Why do they have to involve the Pope? Because this has to do with Bible Prophecy. They know full well they are introducing the Mark of the Beast. They know full well they need the Pope on board. They have been having a lot of trouble with the RFID chip. It has turned out to be very dangerous health wise. It causes radiation, it causes cancers, it causes growths.

I believe Apple and Google have solved the problem and they are going to have a big roll out of their new technology, their new implantable device and they are going to promote it as a wonderful advance in science and that is where the flat-earthers come in. Google and the government are going to depict this as a battle between, on the one hand, the flat-earthers promoting the Bible and on the other hand, Pope Francis promoting the scientific advance of the Mark of the Beast.

In Bible Prophecy, it is not the Antichrist who causes everyone to take the Mark of the Beast, it is the False Prophet, as you my regular subscribers already fully understand. However, thanks to the intervention of the Holy Spirit, I am sure, they inadvertently let the cat out of the bag. When Eric Schmidt was shaking hands with the Pope he said, 'I want to work with you to make these points...' and then he added, 'We will make it happen.' Isn't that amazing? What is the 'it' that the Pope and Schmidt and Cook are going to make happen?

So in conclusion, yes, this End Times delusion is very great and Jesus warned that even the elect would be led astray but the scripture makes it very clear: if you take this Mark of the Beast, the implantable chip under your skin, it doesn't matter what they get the False Prophet to say, you will go to Hell.

Ancient Hebrew Conception of the Universe

The ancient Israelites divided the world into Heaven, Earth, Sea, and the Underworld.

They viewed the sky as a vault resting on foundations—perhaps mountains—with doors and windows that let in the sun. God dwelt above the sky, hidden in cloud and mystery.

The world was viewed as a disk resting on the waters, second or encircled by pillars. The earth was the only known domain—the realm beyond it was considered unknowable.

The Underworld (Sheol) was a watery or dusty prison from which no one returned. Regarded as a physical place beneath the earth, it could be reached only through death.
