

The Leopard vs the Anointed One in Bible Prophecy

It's really amazing the times that we are living in because many of the personages on the world stage are found in Bible Prophecy: people like Barack Obama, Benjamin Netanyahu, Pope Francis and Pope Benedict and when two of these people confront each other, as Barack Obama and Benjamin Netanyahu have been doing lately, the world sits up and take notice.

Even though people do not understand who Benjamin Netanyahu or Barack Obama are in Bible Prophecy, I think they have some kind of an intuition that something very significant is taking place. Now, I have been on YouTube for six-and-a-half years and ever since the beginning I have been explaining that Barack Obama is the Leopard as found in Daniel 7:6, and lately, I have been explaining that Benjamin Netanyahu is the Anointed One as found in Daniel 9:26. Unfortunately, the sad part of this story is that both of these biblical characters have tragic endings in Bible Prophecy and furthermore, I believe those tragic endings will be fulfilled this year, 2015.

Now I have already spoken a great deal on this program about Barack Obama's destiny in Bible Prophecy and how he will be defeated by the last king of the North and that would be Vladimir Putin. By the way, Putin is someone else on the contemporary scene who is found in Bible Prophecy. However, on this program, I would like to talk more about Benjamin Netanyahu. He's the focus of this week's world's attention because he will address Congress about the nuclear program in Iran. And Benjamin Netanyahu I believe is found in Daniel 9, verse 26: "And after 62 weeks the anointed one will be cut off." In Ancient Israel, everyone at that time would have known who you were referring to. The "anointed one" would be the king. Both David and Saul, for example, were anointed by the Prophet Samuel.

Although we don't have kings anymore in these days, they are not anointed, they are elected, the anointed one of Israel today would be the Prime Minister and in this case it would be Netanyahu. And the reason I say Netanyahu and not, for example, his possible successor, is because so much other Bible Prophecy is being fulfilled. For example, Pope Francis, the False Prophet, is now on the throne of Peter.

I believe this same prophesied "cutting off of the anointed one" is found in Zechariah, chapter 12, verse number 7: "Awake, O sword against my shepherd." Now this is Almighty God speaking and notice he says "O sword" against "my shepherd". In other words, God is not wielding the sword, someone else is wielding the sword against His shepherd. When I did my original series on Zechariah, I suggested this martyr was Benjamin Netanyahu. I now believe this "shepherd" is Pope Benedict.

But then Zechariah also prophesies about Benjamin Netanyahu, "and against the man that cleaves to me, says the Lord of hosts." I think Benjamin Netanyahu is "the man who cleaves to the Lord", and he is known as a religious person. "Strike the shepherd and the sheep shall be scattered," now this goes back to "the shepherd", who would be Pope Benedict and the "scattered sheep" would be the Roman Catholics, "and I will turn my hand to the little ones." Once again, Zechariah refers back to Benjamin Netanyahu and the Jews in Israel and the "little ones" would be the Remnant of Israel. And in the next verse we see that the "little ones" recognize Jesus at his return at the Battle of Armageddon.

And so, in conclusion, I am more than a little concerned about Prime Minister Netanyahu visiting America this week. There's no doubt the Obama Administration is producing a climate of hate against him in this country and the news media is going right along with them. We have seen from Bible Prophecy that the "anointed one" is cut off and the "man who cleaves to the Lord" is struck by a sword. Those are both very violent images.

The reason Obama opposes Netanyahu is really quite simple: Netanyahu is very patriotic. He puts his own Nation of Israel first. Obama reflects the views of the Illuminati and patriotism is anathema to them! They want everyone to think of themselves as One Worlders. They are preparing the way for the Antichrist and that's why I believe they will remove Benjamin Netanyahu, if not at the ballot on March 17, then by the more violent means which we have seen prophesied in Scripture by both Daniel and Zechariah.
